HISTORICAL SUMMARY.

Origin of the College.

THE early history of the Royal College of Surgeons of England is the history of two Companies, which, existing at first as separate fraternities or guilds, were for a time united into one body corporate, and finally became resolved again into two distinct Corporations. One of these, the Barbers' Company of London, is first definitely mentioned, in the records preserved at the Guildhall, in the year 1308, when Richard le Barber was presented and sworn before the Court of Aldermen as Master and Supervisor of the Barbers' Guild; and from an Ordinance of the City made in the previous year it is evident that the Barbers of London were at that time engaged in the practice of at least some branches of Surgery. The other Company, known as the Fellowship or Guild of Surgeons, is mentioned in the City records in the year 1369, when two Masters were sworn before the Court of Aldermen and given power to report the faults of unskilful Surgeons.

The Barbers' Company first mentioned in 1308.

The Surgeons' Guild mentioned in 1369.

Rivalry between the two Companies.

Between these two bodies there was for many years a keen rivalry and jealousy. Each tried by turns to attain supremacy of authority and jurisdiction in matters relating to the practice of Surgery. In the year 1376 the Barbers made a complaint to the Mayor and Aldermen against unskilled practitioners in Surgery, and obtained an Ordinance providing that two Masters should be appointed annually to direct and rule the Craft, to inspect instruments, and to see that none should be admitted to the franchise of the City except after attestation of their skill by good examination. Fourteen years later, however, four Masters of the Surgeons' Guild were sworn before the Court of Aldermen, and they were invested with the power of scrutiny among persons practising Surgery and with authority to present defaults. But in the year 1410 the Barbers obtained from the Court of Aldermen confirmation of the privileges granted to them in 1376 with the addition that they should be enjoyed "without the scrutiny of any person or persons of any other craft or trade under any name whatsoever other than the craft or trade of the said Barbers."

tooth-drawing, and those who exercised the faculty of Surgery. In the year 1415 the Mayor and Aldermen required the Company to furnish them with a list of all the latter class of members, from which they selected two as Masters of those practising Surgery, leaving to the Company itself the election of the Masters of the Barbers. Meanwhile the Guild of Surgeons sought an alliance with the Physicians. About the year 1423, probably through the influence of Thomas Morstede (a Surgeon who accompanied Henry V. to Agincourt and who was afterwards Surgeon to Henry VI.), they obtained an Ordinance from the Court of Aldermen having for its object an association or Commonalty of Physicians and Surgeons. Fortified by the support of the Physicians, the Surgeons once more challenged the surgical privileges of the Barbers, but these were again confirmed by the Mayor and Aldermen in 1424. The scheme for a combination of Physicians and Surgeons fell through, but the Surgeons continued a separate body with Ordinances for the government of their Society. The volume containing these Ordinances, which were made in the year 1435, is still in existence and is now in the possession of the Barbers' Company.

Freed from opposition, the Barbers' Company continued to grow in importance, and in the year 1462 the right of its members to practise Surgery was definitely established by LETTERS PATENT granted by EDWARD IV. in the first year of his reign. This Charter, from which the Royal College of Surgeons of England, as recited in the Charter of 1800, dates its constitutional history as a body corporate, was granted to the Freemen of the Mystery of Barbers of the City of London practising Surgery. They were made one Body and Perpetual Community with a Common Seal and with power to hold lands and make Bye-Laws. Provision was made for the annual election of two Masters to rule the Community, to have the scrutiny and government of all persons practising Surgery in London and its suburbs, as well as the supervision of their instruments and medicines, and to have power to inflict punishment upon offenders by fines, imprisonment and other reasonable means. No person was to be allowed to practise Surgery within the City of London and its suburbs unless first approved by the Masters of the Company. The surgical rights of the Barbers' Company were thus firmly established, and, as testimony to the eminence attained by the Surgeons of the Company, it is worthy of note that the Senior Warden of the Company, when the Charter was granted, was WILLIAM HOBBES, Serjeant-Surgeon to the King—probably the first to hold that office.

In the year 1493 the Guild of Surgeons, which had continued as a separate body, entered into an alliance or "Composition" with the Barbers' Company, by which the two Companies agreed each to appoint two Wardens, the four so appointed to act together in all matters relating to Surgery and to the examination and government of its practitioners.

Alliance between the Barbers' Company and Surgeons' Guild made in 1493.

The Charter granted by Edward IV. to the Barbers' Company was confirmed by Henry VII. and also by Henry VIII., but in 1511 an Act (3 Henry VIII. cap. 11) was passed, constituting a further licensing authority by enacting that no person should practise as a Physician or Surgeon in London, or within seven miles of the same, unless first examined and approved by the Bishop of London, or the Dean of St. Paul's, with the assistance of four Physicians or Surgeons. Two years later, upon the petition of the Guild of Surgeons, another Act (5 Henry VIII. cap. 6) was passed, providing that a limited number of members of the Fellowship (or Guild) of Surgeons, as also of members of the Barbers' Company duly admitted as Surgeons, should be exempt from Constableship and Watch and from bearing arms and serving upon inquests and juries within the City of London.

Of the Act 5th Henry VIII. relating to exemption of Surgeons from bearing arms and serving on juries; 1513.

In the year 1540 the two Companies, which had so long been associated by voluntary agreement, were formally united by Act of Parliament, and thus entered upon a new era in their career. The Act (32nd Henry VIII. cap. 42) after reciting that there were two distinct Companies of Surgeons in London, one called the Barbers of London and the other the Surgeons of London, enacted that the two Companies should from thenceforth be united and made one Body Corporate, to be called by the name of the Masters or Governors of the Mystery and Commonalty of the Barbers and Surgeons of London. The United Company was to enjoy all the rights and privileges at any time granted to the two separate Companies. Four Masters or Governors, two to be Surgeons and two to be Barbers, were to be appointed annually; barbers were forbidden to perform any surgical operations, except the drawing of teeth, and surgeons were not to exercise the craft of barbery and shaving. Provision was also made for the study of Anatomy by giving the Company the right to claim four bodies annually of persons executed for felony. Thomas Vicary, Serjeant-Surgeon to Henry VIII. and afterwards to Mary and to Elizabeth, was elected the first Master. The United Company shared the possession of Barbers' Hall, which is known to have occupied its present site in Monkwell Street since 1490 and was probably there even before that. The Hall, subsequently added to by Inigo Jones in 1636, is still standing, having escaped destruction in the Great Fire of London.

Of the Act 34th and 35th Henry VIII. regarding treatment of minor ailments by unlicensed persons.

The Union thus effected was destined to last for more than two hundred years. At first, however, the privileges conferred on the Surgeons of the Company appear to have excited opposition, for in the 34th and 35th years of Henry VIII. an Act was passed allowing unlicensed persons to treat outward sores and swellings with herbs and ointments.

Origin of Court of Examiners in 1555.

During the reign of Queen Mary, in the year 1555, Regulations were drawn up relating to the examination of persons for the Company's Licence to practise. These Regulations provided for the appointment of thirteen Examiners, including the Master and two Governors. This is the origin of the Court of Examiners of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, although it was not until the time of Charles I. that the appointment of ten Examiners—the number continued to this day—was provided for by Charter.

Letters Patent of James I. and provisions thereof, 1605.

In the year 1605 the Company obtained a Charter from James I. providing that the Governing Body of the Company should consist of four Masters or Governors, two of whom were to be Surgeons, and twenty-six Assistants. The Company was given power to examine Barbers and Surgeons, and to prohibit ignorant persons, or such as wilfully refused to be examined, from practising.

Letters Patent of Charles I. and provisions thereof, 1629.

In the year 1629 Charles I. granted a further Charter to the Company, providing that ten Freemen of the Company should be elected and constituted Examiners of Surgeons in London. No one was to practise Surgery in London, or within seven miles of it, except Members of the College of Physicians, unless examined and approved by the Examiners of the Company, and every person so approved might practise Surgery anywhere in England. Apprentices were to serve for not less than seven years, to be sound in body and limbs, and to read and understand Latin. The duty was also assigned to the Court of Examiners of examining Surgeons and Surgeons' Assistants for the Royal Navy and Merchant Service and of inspecting their instruments and chests of medicines. This duty they and their successors, the Company of Surgeons and the Royal College of Surgeons, continued to discharge until other arrangements were made at a comparatively recent date.

Surgeons object to their union with the Barbers, 1684.

For many years the union between the two Companies appears to have worked smoothly, but as early as 1684 there were signs that the Surgeons were beginning to find their association with the Barbers irksome and inconvenient. In that year a Petition for the dissolution of the United Company was presented to the King, but the agitation died out, and it was not until many years later that further steps were taken in the matter. The dissatisfaction, however, continued. From the year 1540 the practice of Surgery had been entirely separated from that of barbery, and much progress had been made in surgical skill and knowledge. Under the United Company several of the Surgeons had attained great eminence in their profession, and among these may be mentioned Richard Ferris, Thomas Gale, the two Clowes', Wiseman, Amyand, Cheselden, Sir Caesar Hawkins, and Percivall Pott. The Surgeons resented the presence of Barbers at their examinations, and objected to the signatures of Barbers appearing upon Surgical Diplomas. In 1744 they informed the Barbers that they intended to petition Parliament for the dissolution of the union. The Barbers protested against this, and both parties presented Petitions to Parliament. The Surgeons prevailed, and in the year 1745 an Act of Parliament was passed dissolving the union and establishing two separate Companies. The Barbers were allowed to retain the whole of the Corporate property, real and personal, with the exception of the Arris Bequest and Gale's Annuity for Anatomy Lectures founded in 1646 and 1655 respectively. These Trusts the Act vested in the Company of Surgeons, and they are now administered by the Royal College of Surgeons.

Petition for dissolution of union presented, 1744.

The union dissolved in 1745.

This Act of the 18th George II. dissolving the union of the Barbers and the Surgeons incorporated the Surgeons under the name of the Master, Governors and Commonalty of the Art and Science of Surgeons of London, and constituted a governing body consisting of twenty-one Assistants appointed for life, of whom one was to be Master and two Governors or Wardens elected annually, and of whom ten were to be Examiners appointed for life. John Ranby, Serjeant-Surgeon to George II. (whom he accompanied to the battle of Dettingen in 1743), became the first Master of the Company, and upon taking his seat he presented a handsome silver cup, which is still in the possession of the College. The First Wardens were Joseph Sandford and William Cheselden. These appointments were made by the Act, which also specified by name the ten Examiners and sixteen Members of the Court of Assistants. The sixteen thus appointed were directed to meet forthwith, and select from the Freemen of the Company five others to complete the number of the Court. Thereafter, the Court were to meet on the first Thursday in July in each succeeding year for the election of the Master and Governors, and to fill up any vacancies, which from time to time might occur from death or resignation among the Examiners and Assistants. In addition to examining Surgeons for the Navy the Examiners were also required to examine all candidates for the posts of Surgeon or Surgeons' Mate in the Army. The Freemen of the Company were to enjoy the same Surgical privileges as approved Surgeons of the United Company had enjoyed under the Act of Union and Charter of Charles I., and, while in the practice of their profession, were to be exempt from all Parish, Ward, and Leet Offices and from serving upon Juries.

Surgeons Hall built.

The Surgeons had to find a new home, and, after holding their first meetings at Stationers' Hall, eventually secured premises in the Old Bailey and there built Surgeons' Hall, entering into occupation in 1751. Here the business of the Company was transacted until 1796, when the Court of Assistants, finding the building in need of substantial repair and their tenure of the premises secured for not more than fifty-five years, determined to dispose of the property and erect a new building upon a freehold site.

Difficulties caused by irregular meeting of Court of Assistants in 1796.

About this time the Company became involved in difficulties in consequence of a provision in the Act of Incorporation which had unfortunately been framed without due regard to possible eventualities. This provision required that the Master and Governors, or any two of them, with nine or more members of the Court of Assistants, should constitute a Court for the despatch of business. On the 7th July, 1796, a meeting was held at which the Master, Mr. Gunning, presided, but at which no Governor was present, one having died in the previous May and the other being too ill to attend. Consequently it was impossible to obtain a properly constituted quorum. Nevertheless the Court conducted its ordinary business, and among other matters elected Henry Cline to the Court of Assistants. In spite of this technical defect in their constitution, the Court of Assistants continued to transact the business of the Company. They disposed of their property in the Old Bailey and acquired a freehold site in Lincoln's Inn Fields, upon which part of the present building of the Royal College of Surgeons of England now stands. The business of the Company was not suspended. Examinations were held and Diplomas were issued. The Examinations of Surgeons for the Navy and Army were also continued.

Property in Old Bailey sold and site in Lincoln's Inn Fields acquired.

Endeavour to reconstitute Company by Act of Parliament abandoned, and petition for Charter presented.

It became, however, necessary to find some means of removing the legal difficulties which had arisen, and, for this purpose and also with the object of acquiring additional powers and authority, a Bill was introduced into Parliament. The Bill passed through the Commons, but was thrown out in the House of Lords; and after further deliberation it was determined to abandon the Bill and to petition for a Charter from the Crown.

Meanwhile Parliament entrusted to the care of the Company the Hunterian Collection purchased for the Nation at a cost of £15,000. The Collection was delivered to the Company under an Order of the Treasury, dated 28th November, 1799, and in March 1800 the Company was re-incorporated and constituted by the name of the Royal College of Surgeons in London, by Charter granted by George III. In the year 1806 Parliament voted a sum of £15,000, and subsequently a further sum of £12,500, in aid of the erection of a building for the display of the Hunterian Collection. A contribution of £21,000 was at the same time made from the funds of the College, and the Museum was opened to visitors in 1813.

Hunteria Collection entrusted to Company in 1799.

The Charter of the 40th George III. definitively severed the connexion of the College with the Corporation of the City of London. Members of the College were not entitled to any franchise belonging to the Freemen of the City, but all other privileges and possessions acquired under former Acts and Charters, and not altered by the Charter then granted, were continued and ratified. The Court of Assistants still consisted of twenty-one Members appointed for life with power to fill up vacancies as they might happen, and from them were chosen the ten Examiners, the Master and two Governors or Wardens being selected from these ten. The two principal Serjeant-Surgeons and the Surgeon-General to the Forces, if not already on the Courts of Assistants and Examiners, were always to be admitted into those Courts in preference to all other persons, when any vacancy should occur.

Charter of George III. constitutes Royal College of Surgeons of London in 1800.

The Court of Assistants and Court of Examiners.

Charles Hawkins, Serjeant-Surgeon to George III., was appointed the First Master, and William Long and George Chandler became the first Governors. All Members of the old Company of Surgeons, on signifying their acceptance of the Charter, were entitled to become Members of the College, and any person in the future desiring to become a Member was required to pass an examination and obtain "Letters Testimonial of his Qualification to practise the Art and Science of Surgery under the Common Seal of the College." In addition to examining candidates for the Membership, the Court of Examiners were required, as under the former Acts and Charters, to examine all Army and Navy Surgeons, their Assistants and Mates, and to inspect their instruments.

A further Charter, granted by George IV. in 1822, changed the titles Master and Governors to President and Vice-Presidents, and provided that the Court of Assistants should in future be styled the Council of the College.

Titles of Master and Governors changed to President and Vice-Presidents, and Court of Assistants to be called Council.

Name of College changed to Royal College of Surgeons of England and Fellowship instituted in 1843.

No change was, however, made in the constitution of the College until the year 1843, when a new Charter (7th Victoria) was obtained, which changed the name of the College to The Royal College of Surgeons of England, and instituted a new class of Members, who were to be called Fellows, from and by whom the Council were to be elected. The number of the Council was increased to twenty-four, and, while the existing Members of the Council were allowed to continue in office for life, provision was made that three elected Members should retire annually, so that, when no more life-Members were left, it would not be possible for a Member to retain his seat for a longer period than eight years without re-election.

Constitution of Court of Examiners altered.

A great change was also effected by this Charter in the constitution of the Court of Examiners. They were no longer to be necessarily selected from the Council, but any Fellow, whether on the Council or not, was made eligible. The Examiners then in office were to continue for life, but all future Examiners were to hold office only during the pleasure of the Council. The Serjeant-Surgeons and Surgeon-General to the Forces were no longer to have any preference of being admitted Examiners, and the President and Vice-Presidents were not to be chosen exclusively from the Examiners but from all the Members of the Council indifferently, whether Examiners of the College or not.

Provision for election of the first Fellows.

The Charter further provided that the President, Vice-Presidents and Members of the Council should be Fellows, and directed them to elect, within three months from the date of the Charter, not less than 250 and not more than 300 Members of the College to be Fellows. They were also given power to appoint other Members to be Fellows within one year from the date of the Charter. With these exceptions no persons were to be admitted to the Fellowship except by examination, nor until attaining the age of twenty-five years. The first Fellows, 300 in number, were chosen mainly from the Surgeons, Assistant-Surgeons and Lecturers of the Metropolitan and Provincial Hospitals. They were elected under one general Diploma on December 11th, 1843. A further election of 242 Fellows took place on the 26th August, 1844, and these included a considerable number of representatives of the Naval, Military and Indian Forces.

Further provision for the election of Fellows in 1852.

In the year 1852 further extension of the principle of election to the Fellowship without examination was made by a Supplemental Charter (15th Victoria), which enabled the Council to elect Members of fifteen years' standing to the Fellowship, provided they were Members when the Charter of 1843 was enacted. The Council were also empowered to admit annually to the Fellowship, without examination, two Members of the College of twenty years' standing, and authority was given for the ad eundem admission to the Fellowship, under certain conditions, of Fellows by examination of the Dublin and the Edinburgh Colleges of Surgeons, and the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons of Glasgow. This Charter also provided that Members of the Court of Examiners thereafter elected should go out of office at the end of five years, but should be eligible for immediate re-election. Provision was also made for the appointment of a Board of Examiners in Midwifery for testing the fitness of persons to practise Midwifery, and Licences in Midwifery were granted to persons passing the Examinations of the Board until the year 1875, after which the Examinations were discontinued.

In the year 1859 the Licence in Dental Surgery was instituted under the Charter of the 23rd Victoria, which empowered the Council to appoint a Board of Examiners for testing the fitness of persons to practise as Dentists.

Licence in Dental Surgery instituted in 1859.

In the year 1875 an Act of Parliament was passed to enable the College to associate itself with one or more of the Colleges or Bodies named in Medical Acts for the purpose of conducting joint examinations for qualifications to be registered under the Acts. In pursuance of the provisions of this Act the College subsequently entered into an Agreement with the Royal College of Physicians of London, establishing a Conjoint Examining Board and requiring that all candidates for the Licence of the Royal College of Physicians of London and the Membership of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, commencing professional study after the 1st October, 1884, should pass the Examinations of the Board before becoming entitled to their Diplomas. Thus was constituted the present Examining Board of the two Colleges. The lease of a site on the Victoria Embankment was acquired from the Duchy of Lancaster, and on this an Examination Hall for the Board was erected at the joint expense of the two Colleges. The foundation-stone was laid by Queen Victoria on the 24th March 1886, and the Hall was first used for examinations in the year 1887. In addition to the examinations for the L.R.C.P. Lond. and M.R.C.S. Eng., examinations are also conducted by the Board for a Diploma in Public Health, granted jointly by the two Colleges, the first examination for this Diploma being held in 1887. Further, in 1904, the question of establishing an examination and Diploma in Tropical Medicine and Hygiene was considered, at the suggestion of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, but, while the Charter of 1888 allows Fellows to record votes at Council Elections by papers sent through Post.

In the year 1888 a Supplemental Charter was obtained, mainly with the objects of enabling the College to hold lands and hereditaments of a greater yearly value than that previously sanctioned, and of allowing Fellows to record their votes at elections to the Council by voting-papers sent through the Post, instead of by personal attendance at the College, as required up to that time.

Honorary Fellowship instituted by Charter in 1899.

The last Charter, obtained by the College in 1899, the 63rd year of Queen Victoria's reign, enables the Council to elect persons, whom they shall deem to be sufficiently distinguished for the purpose, to be Honorary Fellows of the College. These Honorary Fellows, the number of whom must not exceed fifty at any time, are not eligible for the Council or for the Court of Examiners, nor are they entitled to vote at Elections to the Council. Their status is purely honorary and does not confer the right to practise Surgery. The first to become an Honorary Fellow was King Edward VII., who, when Prince of Wales, was graciously pleased to accept the Diploma. At the head of a list of distinguished names the College now has the honour to place that of King George V., followed by those of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales and H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught. His Majesty, when Prince of Wales, became an Honorary Fellow of the College, and, after ascending the Throne, signified his pleasure to retain the title.

New Examination Hall built.

In the year 1908 the Examination Hall on the Victoria Embankment was sold, and a freehold site in Queen Square, Bloomsbury, was subsequently purchased. Upon this site a new Examination Hall has been built by the two Colleges, and since May 1912 the Examinations of the Conjoint Board have been conducted in this building.

Recital that such Corporation was dissolved.

And whereas, we are informed that the said Corporation of Master, Governors, and Commonalty of the Art and Science of Surgeons of London, hath become and now is dissolved: And whereas, it is of great consequence to the Commonweal of this Kingdom, that the Art and Science of Surgery should be duly promoted: And whereas, it appears to us, that the Establishment of a College of Surgeons will be expedient for the due promotion and encouragement of the Study and Practice of the said Art and Science, Now We, of our special Grace and mere Motion, and at the humble Petition of James Earle, Esquire, the late Master, and divers other Members of the aforesaid late Corporation of Surgeons; have willed, ordained, constituted, declared, given and granted, and by these Presents, for Us, Our Heirs, and Successors, do will, ordain, constitute, and declare, give and grant; unto the aforesaid James Earle, and unto all the Members of the said late Company or Corporation of Master, Governors, and Commonalty of the Art and Science of Surgeons of London; having been admitted and approved Surgeons, within the Rules of the said Company; and also unto all such Persons, who upon, or since, the dissolution of the said Corporation, shall have obtained Letters Testimonial, under a Seal purporting to be the Seal of the said late dissolved Corporation, authorizing them to practise the Art and Science of Surgery; and they, from henceforth for ever hereafter, shall be and remain by virtue of these Presents, one Body Corporate and Politic; by the Name of The Royal College of Surgeons in London, and by the same Name shall and may have perpetual Succession, and a Common Seal; with power to break, alter, and make anew the said Seal, from time to time at their will and pleasure; and by the same Name shall and may implead, and be impleaded, before all manner of Justices, in all Courts, and in all manner of Actions and Suits; and shall be at all times for ever hereafter persons able and capable in Law to take, purchase, possess, hold, and enjoy, and shall and may take, purchase, possess, hold and enjoy, a Hall or Council-house, with its Appurtenances, situate within the Cities of London or Westminster, or within one Mile of either of them, for the use and purposes of the said College; and also any other Lands, Tenements, Rents, or Hereditaments, wheresoever situate, lying and being; not exceeding, together with the aforesaid Hall or Council-house, and its appurtenances, the yearly value of one thousand Pounds in the whole; without incurring any of the Penalties in any Statute of Mortmain, or any Thing, in any Statute of Mortmain, to the contrary notwithstanding.

That it is of great consequence that the Science of Surgery should be duly promoted, and that a College will be expedient for the due encouragement thereof.

Therefore His Majesty was pleased to incorporate the Members of the late Company, and all such Persons who since the Dissolution thereof have obtained Letters Testimonial &c.

By the name of "The Royal College of Surgeons in London."

With perpetual succession and a common seal;

don shall not have any jurisdiction over the College. Nor the Members of the College enjoy any franchise belonging to the Freemen of the City of London.

SECT. XIV.—EXAMINATION AND ADMISSION OF MEMBERS.

1. No person under the age of Twenty-one years shall become a Member of the College nor unless and until he shall have passed the Examinations for Qualifications to be registered under the Medical Act, held by the Examining Board for the time being constituted under the Scheme and Regulations approved and adopted by the Royal College of Physicians of London on March 12th, 1883, and by the College on April 29th, 1883 (herein called the Joint Examinations), and complied with the conditions relating thereto contained in the said Scheme and Regulations, or Nothing contained in this Section shall diminish or affect the right of any person who shall have commenced professional study before the 1st of October, 1884, to be examined for and to receive the Diploma of Member of the College; but such right, where it exists, shall remain and continue, to all intents and purposes, as if this Bye-Law had not been enacted.

2. The Diploma of Member shall be in such Form as the Council may from time to time judge proper.

3. The Seal of the College shall be affixed to the Diploma of every Member of the College.

4. Every person, prior to his admission as a Member of the College, shall, in the presence of an Officer of the College, make and subscribe his name to the following Declaration: —

3. Any Fellow or Member who shall have been removed by Resolution of the Council as aforesaid shall thereby forfeit all his rights and privileges as a Fellow and Member or a Member of the College; and his Diplomas or Diploma shall thereupon be void and shall become the property of the College, and be delivered up by such Fellow or Member to the College on demand, provided that if at any subsequent time the Council of the College by Resolution, and subject to such conditions as they may think proper, rescind any Resolution which may have been passed under any of the preceding Bye-Laws for removing any person from being a Fellow and Member or Member of the College, such rescinding of the former Resolution shall have the effect of restoring such person to the Fellowship or Membership of the College, and such person shall, notwithstanding such removal or forfeiture as aforesaid, but subject to such conditions as the Council may in the particular case see fit to impose, be restored to his rights and privileges as a Fellow and Member or a Member of the College.

HUNTERIAN ORATION.

In the year 1813 Dr. Matthew Baillie and Sir Everard Home, Bart., Executors of John Hunter, "being desirous of showing a lasting mark of respect to the memory of the late Mr. John Hunter," gave to the College the sum of £1684 4*s.* 4*d.* Three per cent Consolidated Bank Annuities for the endowment of an annual Oration, to be called the Hunterian Oration, and to be delivered in the Theatre of the College on the 14th of February, the Birthday of John Hunter, by the Master, or one of the Governors for the time being, or such other Member of the Court of Assistants as should be appointed by the Master and Governors or any two of them—such Oration to be expressive of the merits in Comparative Anatomy, Physiology, and Surgery, not only of John Hunter, but also of all such persons, as should be from time to time deceased, whose labours have contributed to the improvement or extension of Surgical Science.

The Endowment was accepted by the College under a Deed of Trust dated the 9th October 1813, containing, amongst others, the following conditions:—That the Fund should be vested in the names of three Members of the Court of Assistants; that £10, part of the interest accruing from the Fund, should be given to the Orator; and that the remainder of the interest should be expended in providing a Dinner, on the day of the delivery of the Oration, for the Members of the Court of Assistants and such other persons as the Master and Governors for the time being should think proper to invite.

In 1853, after consultation with the representatives of the founders of the Trust, it was decided that the Oration should in future be delivered biennially instead of annually.

The fund was re-invested in 1900, and at the present time consists of £1850 India Three per Cent. Stock.

ARRIS AND GALE LECTURES.

The Arris Lectures were founded in 1646 by Mr. Edward Arris, a Member of the Company of Barbers and Surgeons, of which he became Master in 1651. He was also an Alderman of the City of London in that year. He died on the 28th May 1676. His portrait in one picture with a portrait of Sir Charles Scarborough, who was appointed to deliver the Arris Lectures in 1649, is in the possession of the Barbers' Company.

From the Minute Books of the Company of Barbers and Surgeons it appears that on the 24th March 1646 Mr. Edward Arris paid to the Company a sum of £300 "for the use of the new publique Anatomy." This sum was subsequently repaid to Mr. Arris, and in lieu thereof he settled upon the Company an annuity of £30, which shortly before his death he redeemed by the payment of £510. By the Act of Parliament of the 18th George II (1745) for dissolving the Union between the Barbers and Surgeons this sum of £510 was given and vested in the Company of Surgeons then incorporated, and upon the dissolution of that Company became vested in the College. The fund now consists of £433 6*s.* 8*d.* Metropolitan Consolidated Three per Cent. Stock.

In the final settlement of the Trust no conditions appear to have been imposed save an understanding that the Anatomy Lectures of the Company were to be continued. By an Act of Parliament passed in 1540 the Company were entitled to claim four bodies annually of persons executed for felony, and to make use of them for the study of Anatomy. The bodies were dissected, and lectures on the muscles and other subjects were given. The Surgeons of the Company were required to attend these lectures and demonstrations, which were called "Public Anatomies." The intention of Mr. Arris was to assist the Company in this work, and the lecturers appointed under this foundation were at first called "Readers of the Muscular Lecture."

Under the Company of Surgeons the Arris Lectures were from 1753 to 1766 delivered by the Masters of Anatomy, of whom the first to be appointed were Percivall Pott and John Hunter. In 1767 the office of Professor of Anatomy was created, and the Arris Lectures were assigned to him.

The Gale Lectures were founded by Mr. John Gale of Bushey, a Member of the Company of Barbers and Surgeons, who, by his Will, dated 13th August 1655, left to the Company an Annuity of £16, payable out of the rents of certain premises on Snow Hill in the City of London, for one Lecture in Anatomy every year to be called Gale's Anatomy.

This Annuity, together with the Arris Bequest, was by the Act of Parliament of 1745 vested in the Company of Surgeons, and upon the dissolution of that Company became vested in the College. In pursuance of Acts of Parliament passed in the 35th and 44th years of George III for the improvement of Snow Hill, the Rent Charge of £16 per annum was purchased by the City of London for the sum of £432, which sum, in accordance with the directions of those Acts, was invested in the name of the Accountant General of the Court of Chancery, until the same shall again be invested in some Real Estate, and the same was laid out in the purchase of £689 16*s.* 5*d.* Consolidated Bank Annuities (re-invested in £703 0*s.* 1*d.* 2½ per Cent. Consols in 1891), the interest thereof being paid to the College.

The earliest record of a lecture under this Trust is dated 30th June 1698, when it was "ordered that there be an Anatomy Lecture called Gale's Anatomy," and Dr. Havers, well known for his description of the canals in bone, since called Haversian, was appointed the first Reader. The Lecture was afterwards called the Osteology Lecture.

Under the Company of Surgeons the Lecture was at first allotted to the senior Master of Anatomy, and afterwards to the Professor of Anatomy.

At the beginning of the Nineteenth Century, lectures were for a time suspended at the College owing to building operations, but were resumed in 1810. It was then determined that six lectures should be delivered annually under the Arris and Gale Trusts. The lectures were no longer distinguished as "muscular" and "osteological," but were united into one course delivered by a Professor of Anatomy and Surgery. In 1857 the title of the lecturer was altered to Professor of Human Anatomy and Surgery, and in 1868 to Arris and Gale Lecturer. In 1864 the number of lectures was reduced to three. Honorarium for the three lectures, the amount of the dividends received from the Arris Bequest and Gale Annuity—about £30.

ERASMUS WILSON LECTURES.

With the object of promoting the study of the Pathology together with the Anatomy and Physiology, human and comparative, of the Skin and its Appendages, the late Sir Erasmus Wilson gave to the College the sum of £5000 New Three per cent. Consols, under a Deed of Trust, dated the 8th July 1869, to found and endow a Professorship of Dermatology. The Council appointed Sir Erasmus Wilson to the Professorship, and during the period 1870–78 he delivered six lectures annually, and presented to the Museum a large collection of casts and models used in illustration of his lectures.

In 1879 certain alterations in the terms of the Trust were effected with the approval of the Founder, providing that the income derived from the Fund should be devoted to the promotion of original researches by lectures delivered at the College, the number of such lectures not to exceed three in any one year, and to be given by one or more persons to be called Erasmus Wilson Professors of Pathology.

In 1881 further alterations were thought desirable, and under a new Deed of Trust, dated the 13th April 1882, it is now provided that the income of the Fund shall be appropriated in part towards the payment of the salary of a Pathological Curator of the Museum, and in part for the payment of Lectures on the Pathological contents of the Museum to be delivered by the Pathological Curator or some other person appointed for the purpose with the title of Erasmus Wilson Lecturer. Three lectures were delivered annually from 1882 to 1908. In July 1908 it was decided to institute a series of lectures or demonstrations on advanced Surgical Pathology, illustrated by specimens in the Museum, and from 1909 to 1918 and since 1921 the Erasmus Wilson Lectures have formed part of this Series, six demonstrations being given annually by Mr. S. G. Shattock, the Pathological Curator. Honorarium £30.

In 1900 the fund was re-invested in £4731 13*s.* Metropolitan Consolidated Three per Cent. Stock, and this amount has since been increased to £5250 by the investment of an unexpended income balance accumulated mainly in the early years of the Trust.

BRADSHAW LECTURE.

The Bradshaw Lecture was founded in memory of her husband by the late Mrs. Sally Hall Bradshaw, widow of Dr. William Wood Bradshaw, M.A.Oxon., D.C.L., LL.D., a Fellow of the College for many years in practice at Reading. She bequeathed to the College by Will, dated 6th September 1875 and proved 26th August 1880, a sum of £1000 Three per Cent. Consols, the income thereof to be expended upon a lecture on Surgery to be called "The Bradshaw Lecture," and to be delivered annually on the 18th August, the anniversary of Dr. Bradshaw's death.

In 1882 an Order of Administration of the Bequest was obtained from the Charity Commissioners, which provided that the Lecture should be delivered on the 18th day of August, or on such other day as might be expressly substituted in each year for that day by the President, and a sum of £900 Three per Cent. Consols was transferred to the College in satisfaction of the Bequest. The fund was re-invested in 1906, and at the present time consists of £900 Metropolitan Consolidated Three per Cent. Stock. BLICKE BEQUEST.

Sir Charles Blicke, Master of the College in 1803 and 1810, died in 1815, and by his Will left to the College £300 Three per cent. Consols "for the distinct purpose of applying the annual interest thereof for the purchase of books for ever."

The fund was transferred to the College in 1817, and vested in the names of three Members of the Court of Assistants as Trustees.

In 1900 the fund was re-invested, and at the present time consists of £300 India Three per cent. Stock.

CLINE TRUST.

Mr. Henry Cline, Master of the College in 1815 and President in 1823, died in 1827, and by his Will bequeathed to the College, on trust, such an amount of his Three per cent. French Rentes as should at the time of his death produce £600 per annum, the dividends thereof to be received by his children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren, and after the death of the survivor of them, to be applied to the improvement of the Science of Surgery in such manner as the Council of the College should from time to time direct. In satisfaction of this Bequest a Rente of 15,000 francs per annum was entered in the Books of the Bank of France.

Of this annuity 535 francs were sold in 1908 to pay Estate Duty and interest thereon claimed by the Commissioners of Inland Revenue upon one-fifth of the 15,000 francs passing on the death of each of four of the five great grandchildren.

The surviving great grandchild died on the 5th August, 1917, and the balance of 14,465 francs per annum has been transferred into the name of the College. These Rentes, which now form the Trust, were valued by the Inland Revenue Authorities at £10,366 11*s.* 6*d.*, and Estate and Legacy Duties thereon, amounting to £1,525 19*s.* 11*d.* were paid out of general funds of the College, as the regulations of the French Government forbade any portion of the Rentes forming the Bequest being sold and the proceeds transmitted abroad during the War.

This sum having now been repaid to the general funds of the College out of the income from the Trust, it has been decided by the Council of the College to apply the income from the Trust to the development of the Army Medical War Collection of pathological and other specimens, entrusted to the care of the College under an Agreement with the Secretary of State for War, dated the 11th November, 1921.

In the year 1920 the Royal College of Surgeons of England undertook to become the Trustees and Administrators of the Fund, and with the approval of the General Committee of the Fund the trust was transferred to the College subject to the following provisions :—

JOHN HUNTER MEDAL

AND

TRIENNIAL PRIZE.

The Triennial Prize was founded by the Court of Assistants in the year 1820, and was first offered for competition in 1822. The honorarium, provided from the funds of the College, at first amounted to Thirty Pounds, but in 1840 was increased to Fifty Guineas.

In 1864 a life-size statue of John Hunter by H. Weekes, R.A., was erected in the Museum of the College by public subscription, and with the residue of the subscriptions the Statue Committee founded the John Hunter Medal, which in the year 1867 they entrusted to the College for award to the person to whom the Triennial Prize shall from time to time be adjudged.

The Prize, which now consists of the John Hunter Medal executed in bronze with an honorarium of Fifty Pounds, was offered triennially from 1822 to 1922 as an award for the best essay on a subject in human or comparative anatomy and physiology, but in 1925 and thereafter triennially may be awarded to some Fellow or Member of the College, who has, during the preceding ten years, done such work in Anatomy, Physiology, Histology, Embryology, or Pathological Anatomy as, in the opinion of the Committee of adjudication, deserves special recognition.

BLANE MEDALS.

This Medal was founded by Sir Gilbert Blane, Bt., F.R.S., a distinguished physician, best known for the sanitary reforms which he effected in the Navy, and the success of the measures which he introduced for the prevention of scurvy.

Under a Deed of Trust, dated the 13th March 1830, he transferred to the College the sum of £300 three per Cent. Consolidated Bank Annuities to provide for two Gold Medals to be conferred once in every two years on two Medical Officers of the Royal Navy "who in the time required shall have delivered to the proper office Journals evincing the most distinguished proofs of skill, diligence, humanity, and learning in the exercise of their professional duties." The Journals were to be submitted for adjudication to the President of the Royal College of Physicians of London, the President of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, and the Senior Medical Commissioner of the Royal Navy (Director-General of the Medical Department of the Navy).

In 1913, in pursuance of authority given to them under the Deed, the Presidents of the Colleges and the Director-General of the Medical Department of the Navy decided, with the approval of the Lords of the Admiralty, to make certain alterations in the Regulations for the award of the Medals, and it is now provided "that one Medal be awarded annually to the Medical Officer who obtains the highest aggregate marks at the examination for promotion to the rank of Surgeon Lieutenant Commander, now held twice a year in connection with the Courses at the Medical School of the Royal Naval College, Greenwich—the award to be subject to the approval of the Presidents of the Colleges of Physicians and Surgeons respectively, and the Director General of the Medical Department of the Navy."

The fund has been re-invested, and at the present time consists of £300 Metropolitan Consolidated 3½ per cent. Stock.

I. Annual Meeting of Fellows and Members.

This meeting was held on Thursday, the 16th November, 1922, at 3 o'clock P.M.

The Chair was taken by the President, Sir Anthony Bowlby, and 8 other Members of the Council were present. Four Fellows (not on the Council) and 35 Members attended the meeting.

The President placed before the meeting the Report of the Council for the period from the 1st August, 1921, to the 31st July, 1922, copies of which had previously been circulated to 745 Fellows and Members, and referred to some of the subjects dealt with in the Report.

Sir John Bland-Sutton gave an account of the work in the Museum, and referred to the progress which was being made with the arrangement and housing of the Army Medical War Collection.

After some preliminary questions had been asked by Dr. Redmond Roche and others and answered by the President, the following resolution was moved by Dr. Roche:—

That this Thirty-fourth Annual Meeting of Fellows and Members again affirms the desirability of admitting Members to direct representation on the Council of the College, which (as now constituted) only represents those Members who also hold the Fellowship; and that it does so, in order that the constitution of the Council of the Royal College of Surgeons of England shall be in keeping with modern ideas of true representation; further that, as the Royal College of Surgeons is composed of about 18,000 persons, of whom over 16,000 are engaged in general practice, this Annual Meeting requests the President and Council to nominate at least two Members in general practice to represent the interests of general practitioners on the Council of the College.

Dr. Roche said that this resolution had been brought forward for twenty years and had been carried almost invariably by overwhelming majorities, only to be strangled by the Council and buried in the waste-paper basket. No reasons had ever been given for refusing the request of the Members. The government of the College was a mediæval anachronism, and the constitution of the electorate an unblushing usurpation. The result was a Council consisting exclusively of surgical specialists who had no right to speak for general practitioners, who formed the bulk of the Members.

The resolution was seconded by Dr. E. E. Ware, supported by Dr. F. G. Lloyd, Dr. Arthur Haydon and others, and carried by 26 votes to 2.

The following resolution was moved by Dr. M. I. Finucane, seconded by Dr. F. W. Collingwood, and carried:—

That this Meeting of Fellows and Members requests the President of the College to make a detailed statement HERE AND NOW as to all the reasons, legal and otherwise, for the Council's refusal to allow representation on the Council of the Members in general practice; and to state whether legal advice had been taken as to any possible means of overcoming any difficulties in the way of carrying out our wishes: and, if so, to declare what that advice was.

The President demurred to the terms of the resolution which referred to the Council's refusal to allow representation. That was a misstatement. The Council had power neither to refuse nor to grant. It was strictly limited by its charter, which conveyed no such powers. It was unfortunate also that Members should speak as though there was hostility between themselves and the Fellows; he did not admit there was any such hostility. In one breath they were told that the status of Members was grievously affected by the action of the Council; in the next, that the status of Members was extremely high. He himself had no hostility to the Members, nor had any Member of the Council. Many of the Members were their friends, and many had been their pupils. It was said that this was a matter for which all the Members were pressing. The first resolution spoke of the College as composed of 18,000 persons, of whom 16,000 were engaged in general practice. No indication had ever been given as to how many Members there were in the "Society of Members"; no list of names had ever been published, no figures had been furnished. In the past the Council had consulted the Fellows, who were the electorate, and their opinion on the proposal was adverse. The Council is naturally bound to attach weight to this opinion. In 1908 the "Society of Members" asked the opinion of Members of the College, but the result had never been published; it was not known what the result was. Under the circumstances the only way in which the Council could judge of the feeling of the Members was by means of the annual general meeting. There were 18,000 Fellows and Members of the College, and the number of votes cast that day for the main resolution was 26—something like 1·5 per 1000. He wished to ask the Secretary of the "Society of Members" what was its total membership.

Dr. S. C. Lawrence said that the Society represented the 16,000 Members; he had never yet met a Member who justified the Council's action. Two Members thereupon said that the Society of Members did not represent them. Although further pressed for an answer to the President's question, Dr. Lawrence failed to give any information as to how many Members of the College were members of his "Society."

The President, continuing, said that, in the absence of any more definite figures from the "Society of Members," the Council had no information as to the feeling of Members on this subject. He was intimately associated during the war with many hundreds of Members, and this subject was never raised. It was never raised at all except at the annual meeting, when it was often difficult even to get a quorum. He wished also to point out that the present electorate of Fellows was representative. It was constantly suggested that the Fellows were not in general practice; that was a misstatement. Hundreds of Fellows of the College to his own knowledge were in general practice, and every one of them was eligible for a seat on the Council. He was satisfied that the Council represented every part of the profession.

In conclusion, the President read the following reply approved by the Council on the 9th November, 1922:—

The chief reasons why the Council has not advised that application should be made for an amended Charter enabling Members to vote for and sit upon the Council of the College are:—

First. The Council believe that the present electorate of 1,700 Members who have taken the Fellowship is a thoroughly representative one. They know that a very large number of the Fellows of the College are in general practice in various parts of Great Britain, and it is consequently quite wrong to assume that the Fellows are all engaged in work as Consulting Surgeons. Many other Fellows, as well as Members, are serving in various appointments under the Government or Local Authorities.

Second. The Council are not prepared to advocate measures which are in direct opposition to the opinions of a large number of the present electorate. They are aware that many Fellows are opposed to the granting of such an amended Charter as would meet the approval of the Society of Members of the Royal College of Surgeons, and when, on two occasions, the Fellows have been invited to vote on the question of the extension of the franchise, a majority has voted against it. The present Council has been elected by the Fellows and is bound to give due weight to their opinions.

Third. There is no evidence before the Council of a widespread demand by the Members themselves for an amended Charter, and very few Members come to the annual meeting to support the Motions of the Society of Members.

II. Fellows by Election.

Surgeon Vice-Admiral Sir Robert Hill, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., and Mr. John Howard Mummery, C.B.E., have been elected Fellows of the College under Sect. 5 of the 15th Victoria relating to the admission to the Fellowship without examination of Members of twenty years' standing.

III. Jacksonian Prize.

The Jacksonian Prize for the year 1922 has been awarded to Mr. Sidney Forsdike, M.D., F.R.C.S., of Harley Street, for his essay on "The effects produced by Radium upon living tissues, with special reference to its use in the treatment of Malignant Disease."

The subject for the year 1924 is "The pathology, diagnosis and treatment of Œsophageal Obstruction."

IV. Streatfeild Scholar.

Mr. Kenneth Norman Grierson Bailey, M.B.Lond., M.R.C.S., has been appointed the second Streatfeild Scholar.

The subject of his research, to be carried out at St. Bartholomew's Hospital, is "Infection of the Urinary Tract by Coliform Bacilli."

V. Lister Medal.

Dies for the Lister Medal have now been made from a design by Mr. Charles L. Hartwell, A.R.A.

The medal in bronze is to be awarded triennially with an honorarium of £500 in recognition of distinguished contributions to surgical science, the recipient being required to give an Address in London under the auspices of the Royal College of Surgeons.

VI. Hunterian Oration.

The Hunterian Oration was delivered by Sir John Bland-Sutton on the 14th February, 1923, the anniversary of John Hunter's birth.

In accordance with the terms of the Deed of Trust for the endowment of the Oration, a dinner was given in the evening, at which a number of distinguished guests were present, including Mr. Rudyard Kipling, who made an eloquent speech in proposing the health of "The Hunterian Orator."

In connection with this occasion, an interesting addition to the collection of portraits was made through the presentation by Sir John Bland-Sutton of a copy by Mr. Dorofield Hardy of the portrait of John Hunter by his relative Robert Home.

VII. Lectures.

The following lectures have been delivered during the year :—

Bradshaw Lecture.

Sir William Thorburn	On the Surgery of the Spinal Cord.

Mr. E. R. Flint.....	One lecture on Abnormalities of the Hepatic and Cystic Arteries and Bile Ducts.

VIII. Removal of Member.

The name of one Member has been removed from the list of Members of the College under Clause 2, Sect. XVI, of the Bye-Laws relating to Fellows and Members of the College whose names have been removed from the Medical Register by order of the General Medical Council.

The Member had been adjudged by the General Medical Council to have been guilty of infamous conduct in a professional respect (adultery with a patient).

IX. New Regulations—Conjoint Examining Board.

The Regulations of the Conjoint Examining Board for candidates for the diplomas of M.R.C.S. and L.R.C.P. have been revised, and the amended course of study and examination will apply to all candidates commencing professional study on or after the 1st January, 1923.

Under these Regulations, Chemistry and Physics become subjects of a Pre-Medical Examination to be passed before the commencement of the five years of professional study.

Biology will no longer be a subject of examination, but candidates will be required to take out a course of instruction in that subject in accordance with a revised syllabus which has been drawn up.

The subjects of the First Examination will be Anatomy and Physiology, and, whereas formerly candidates were required to pass in both subjects together, candidates under both the old and new regulations will in future be allowed to pass in one of these subjects, provided they obtain not less than half the number of marks required to pass in the other subject.

The subjects of the Second or Final Examination will be Medicine, Surgery, and Midwifery.

X. Licence in Dental Surgery.

The alterations in the Regulations for the diplomas of M.R.C.S. and L.R.C.P. have rendered necessary a revision of the Regulations for the Licence in Dental Surgery.

Amended Regulations have been drawn up by the Board of Examiners in Dental Surgery and approved by the Council. As in the case of Medical Students, for Dental Students also Chemistry and Physics become subjects of a Pre-Medical Examination.

There will be the same standard of Preliminary Examination in General Education for Dental Students as for Medical Students.

XI. Diploma in Laryngology and Otology.

In association with the Royal College of Physicians it has been decided to institute a Diploma in Laryngology and Otology on the lines of the recently instituted Diploma in Ophthalmic Medicine and Surgery.

Regulations have been drawn up and are available for intending candidates.

Examinations for the Diploma will be held in December 1923 and June 1924.

XII. Diploma in Public Health.

The Regulations for the Diploma in Public Health have been revised so as to bring them into conformity with new resolutions and rules issued by the General Medical Council, and will come into force on the 1st January, 1924.

Before the new resolutions were finally adopted by the General Medical Council, the Royal Colleges were invited to express their views in regard to the proposed alterations, and they pointed out what appeared to them to be defects in regard to the following particulars:—

In the new resolutions and rules no provision is made for candidates in the Army to receive instruction in the duties of a Medical Officer of Health under a Sanitary Staff Officer in the R. A. M. Corps having charge of an Army Corps, District, Command or Division, such as was formerly provided for in the regulations.

Further, it appears that under the new Regulations, the instruction under a Sanitary Officer in India, in the British Dominions and the Colonies will be no longer acceptable, because, according to the interpretation of the new rules by the General Medical Council, the whole course of training under a Medical Officer of Health must be given under one and the same Officer in one and the same area and must cover all the subjects mentioned in Section II. paragraph II. 4 (a) to (f), and it is improbable that these conditions can be fulfilled elsewhere than in this country.

In these respects the new Regulations cause a distinct hardship to Officers in the R. A. M. C. and to Indian and Colonial Doctors.

In spite of the representations of the Royal Colleges, the General Medical Council has failed to amend the new resolutions and rules in any of the ways suggested with a view to removing the hardships complained of.

XIII. Resolutions of Condolence.

Sir Charles Ryall, C.B.E., Member of the Council, died 5th September, 1922.

The President and Council of the Royal College of Surgeons beg to offer their sincere sympathy to Lady Ryall in the lamented and untimely death of her husband and their esteemed colleague Sir Charles Ryall. They recall the valuable services he rendered at all times, and in many ways to the College, as a Member of the Council, at whose deliberations his opinion was always listened to with attention and respect. Besides the loss of his co-operation in the business affairs of the College, his death has removed one whose winning personality endeared him to all his colleagues. Sir Charles gained the affection and esteem of others to a degree rarely attained, and his passing has left a void which will long be felt.

Sir William Thorburn, K.B.E., C.B., C.M.G., Member of the Council and Chairman of the Court of Examiners, died 18th March, 1923.

The Council of the Royal College of Surgeons beg to offer their sincere sympathy with the Misses Thorburn in the lamented death of their father, Sir William Thorburn. In doing so the Council desire also to express their deep sense of the loss they have sustained in the removal of a colleague who rendered service of signal value in the affairs of the College, both as a Member of the Council and as a Member of the Court of Examiners.

XIV. Issue of Diplomas.

The following is a record of the number of Diplomas issued during the period with which this Report deals, viz.:—

Qualification.	Number of Diplomas issued.
Membership	621 (including 137 women)
Fellowship	49 (including 1 woman)
Licence in Dental Surgery	238 (including 10 women)
*Diploma in Public Health	66 (including 12 women)
*Diploma in Tropical Medicine and Hygiene	39 (including 1 woman)
*Diploma in Ophthalmic Medicine and Surgery	24 (including 1 woman)
*Diploma in Psychological Medicine	21 (including 2 women)

* Granted jointly with the Royal College of Physicians.

XV. Financial Report.

Income.

The gross income of the College, exclusive of income from Trust Funds, amounts to £42,967, and is £3,152 more than in the previous year.

The gross receipts of this College from the Conjoint Examining Board are £3,664 higher, mainly due to the increase in the examination and diploma fees for the Membership.

In the fees for the Fellowship there is a decrease of £512, and in the fees for the Licence in Dental Surgery a decrease of £728.

In the dividends on investments there is an increase of £356 in the case of the general funds, and of £366 in the case of the Erasmus Wilson Bequest.

Expenditure.

The total expenditure in respect of revenue amounts to £38,090, and exceeds the expediture of the previous year by £4,838.

The increase in the number of candidates examined is mainly responsible for an addition of £1,775 in the expenses of the Conjoint Examining Board payable by this College.

The cost of the Fellowship Examinations is £358 less, and of the Dental Examinations £145 less than in the previous year.

As regards the establishment charges, the General Working Expenses are £310 less than in the previous year, but in the special expenses of the Museum there is an increase of £75, and in the special expenses of the Library an increase of £108.

The extraordinary expenditure, which amounts to £3,948, is exceptionally heavy, and includes a sum of £3,044 for the installation of a new heating system and a sum of £680 for alterations in the basement providing additional lavatory accommodation.

General Remarks.

The balance on the Revenue Account amounts to £4,877, a decrease of £1,686 on the sum realised in the previous year, when however, the extraordinary expenditure only amounted to £255. In the year just completed over £3,700 has been expended out of revenue on structural and other alterations in the nature of capital expenditure.

The value of investments at the 24th June, 1923, shows a further improvement, the decrease in depreciation on the general investments amounting to £11,071, thus reducing the depreciation to £62,640.

The investments under Trusts have appreciated in value during the year, with the exception of the Cline Trust invested in French 3 per cent. Rentes. Owing to the depreciation in the value of the Franc, the capital value of this Trust has fallen from £5,344 to £3,366.

THE MUSEUM.

The Hunterian Collection, which forms the basis, and still a large proportion, of the contents of the present Museum of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, was originally arranged in a building which its Founder, John Hunter, erected for it in 1784, behind his house in Leicester Square.

John Hunter died October 16th, 1793, aged 65. By his will he directed the Museum to be offered in the first instance to the British Government, on such terms as might be considered reasonable, and in case of refusal to be sold in one lot, either to some foreign state, or as his executors might think proper.

In the year 1799 Parliament voted the sum of £15,000 for the Museum, and an offer of it being made to the Corporation of Surgeons, it was accepted on the terms proposed by Government*.

In 1806 the sum of £15,000 was voted by Parliament in aid of the erection of an edifice for the display and arrangement of the Hunterian Collection; a second grant of £12,500 was subsequently voted, and upwards of £21,000 having been supplied from the funds of the College, the building was completed in Lincoln's-Inn-Fields, in which the Museum was opened for the inspection of visitors in the year 1813.

In consequence of the large number of additions, this building became too small for the adequate display and arrangement of its contents; and more space being at the same time required for the rapidly increasing Library, the greater portion of the present building was erected, wholly at the expense of the College, in 1835, at

* The following are the Terms and Conditions on which the Hunterian Collection, purchased by Parliament, was delivered to the late Corporation of Surgeons; which Corporation having become dissolved, the Members thereof were re-incorporated by Charter, dated the 22nd day of March, 1800, under the Title of The Royal College of Surgeons in London:—

1st. The Collection shall be open Four Hours in the Forenoon of two days every week for Inspection and Consultation of the Fellows of the College of Physicians, the Members of the Company of Surgeons and Persons properly introduced by them; a Catalogue of the Preparations, and a proper Person to explain it, being at those times always in the Room.

† 2nd. That one Course of Lectures, not less than twenty-four in number, on Comparative Anatomy and other subjects, illustrated by the preparations, shall be given every year by some Member of the Company.

3rd. That the Preparations shall be kept in a state of Preservation, and the Collection in as perfect a state as possible, at the Expense of the Corporation of Surgeons, subject to the annual Inspection and Superintendence of the Trustees.

4th. That there shall be a Board of Trustees, to consist of sixteen (increased to seventeen by the Lords of the Treasury in 1856) Members, by virtue of their Public Offices, and of fourteen others, to be appointed, in the first instance, by the Lords of the Treasury, and afterwards to be elected, as Vacancies may happen, by a Majority of the remaining Trustees.

5th. That the Museum shall always be open for the Inspection of all or any of the said Trustees, who are to take care that the Corporation of Surgeons perform their Engagements respecting the said Collection. That a day be appointed for the annual Inspection of the Museum, by the Trustees acting collectively as a Board; and that they are also to have quarterly Meetings, for the transacting of any Business relative to the Museum, and for the filling up of such Vacancies as may happen in the number of the Trustees; and that the Corporation of Surgeons shall engage some person to officiate as Secretary to the Board upon such occasions, and to issue previous Notice to the Members, in which he is to state particularly whether any Vacancies are to be filled up by new Elections.

† This Clause was altered by the Lords of the Treasury in 1894, to the following, viz.:—

2nd. That one Course of Lectures, not less than twelve in number, on Comparative Anatomy and other subjects, illustrated by preparations from the Hunterian Collection and the other contents of the Museum, shall be given every year by Fellows or Members of the College.

a cost of about £40,000, and the Hunterian and Collegiate Collections were re-arranged in what are now termed Rooms Nos. III. and IV., which were opened for the inspection of visitors in 1836.

Further enlargement of the building having become necessary by the continued increase of the Collection, the College, in 1847, purchased the extensive premises of Mr. Alderman Copeland, in Portugal Street, for the sum of £16,000, and in 1852 proceeded to the erection of Room No. V., at the expense of £25,000, Parliament granting £15,000 in aid thereof. The rearrangement of the specimens was completed, and the additional portion of the building opened to visitors in 1855. The Collection still continuing to increase and more space having again become necessary, the College in 1888 determined to erect, at a cost of £19,000, two new Museums on the western side of the old structure. These buildings, called Rooms Nos. I. and II., were completed in 1891. Besides giving greater accommodation for the Collection in general they have also provided space for the display of photographs and drawings illustrating Diseases.

The Hunterian Collection was estimated to consist of 13,682 specimens, distributed under the following heads :—

Physiological Department, or Normal Structures.

Physiological preparations in spirit	3745
Osteological preparations	965
Dry do.	617
Zoological do.	1968
Fossils :—
Vertebrate	1215
Invertebrate	2202
Plants	292

Pathological Department, or Abnormal Structures.

Preparations in spirit	1084
Dry preparations (including bones)	625
Calculi and concretions	536
Monsters and Malformations	218
Microscopic preparations	215

Of the additions by which the size and value of the Collection have been so materially increased since it came into the possession of the College, very many have been presented by Fellows and Members of the College, and other persons interested in scientific pursuits. Among the largest contributions from this source have been the Collection, consisting of 847 specimens, presented in 1811 by Sir William Blizard; a valuable series of Pathological specimens presented in 1851 by Sir Stephen L. Hammick; and a Collection, presented in 1905 by Lt.-Colonel Sir Richard Havelock Charles, I.M.S., K.C.V.O., consisting of 248 skulls, and other specimens, representative of many of the Castes and Tribes of India. At the same time the Council of the College have availed themselves of various opportunities as they have occurred to purchase specimens of interest, especially at the dispersion of private anatomical and pathological museums, as that of Sir A. Lever in 1806, of Mr. Joshua Brookes in 1828, of Mr. Heaviside in 1829, Mr. Langstaff in 1835, Mr. South in the same year, Mr. Howship and Mr. Taunton in 1841, Mr. Liston in 1842, Mr. Walker in 1843, and, deserving of especial mention on account of the great number and value of the specimens acquired, those of Sir Astley Cooper in 1843 and Dr. Barnard Davis in 1880.

The Histological Collection, of which the 215 Hunterian specimens (prepared by Hewson) constitute the nucleus, was chiefly formed by the late Professor Quekett, with considerable additions by purchase from Dr. Tweedy J. Todd, Mr. Nasmyth, and Professor Lenhossek. It now contains upwards of 12,000 specimens, all arranged and catalogued so as to be readily available for reference.

In 1909 the Collection of the Odontological Section of the Royal Society of Medicine, consisting of about 5000 specimens, was transferred to the College under a Deed of Trust, and is now arranged with the other odontological specimens belonging to the College in a room specially prepared for its reception under Room II. of the Museum.

In 1913 an Agreement was entered into with the Royal Society of Medicine, under which the Society transferred to the College, as a loan, its Collection of Obstetrical and Gynæcological Instruments, formerly the property of the Obstetrical Society of London, and the College undertook to house and maintain the Collection without charge to the Society.

In 1921 a further important trust was undertaken by the College, and the Army Medical War Collection of Pathological and other Specimens is now entrusted to the care of the College under an Agreement, dated the 11th November, 1921, entered into with the Secretary of State for War *.

* The following are the Conditions on which the Army Medical War Collection of Pathological, Orthopædic, etc., specimens is entrusted to the care of the Royal College of Surgeons of England :—

1. His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the War Department (hereinafter called the Secretary of State) shall hand over for custody to the Royal College of Surgeons of England the Army Medical War Collection (hereinafter called the Collection) of specimens, including pathological preparations, models, drawings and photographs, at present kept at the Royal College of Surgeons, and of such other specimens as the Director General Army Medical Service may hereafter with the approval of the Royal College of Surgeons add thereto, also such orthopædic and facial exhibits as are judged by the representatives appointed by the Royal College of Surgeons and the Director General Army Medical Service respectively to be of permanent value, and the Royal College of Surgeons shall accept the custody of the same, subject to the terms and conditions hereinafter contained.

2. The Royal College of Surgeons shall distinguish the specimens comprised in the Collection by a special mark or letters on the label of each specimen or exhibit and by conspicuously displaying the title "Army Medical War Collection" at the entrance to the room or rooms in which the Collection is exhibited.

3. The Royal College of Surgeons shall suitably house, maintain, and exhibit the Collection in its Museum and shall provide such additional glass, preservatives, labels, catalogues, and other appliances and materials as may be required for the further preparation, exhibition, and maintenance of the Collection without any charge whatsoever.

4. The Royal College of Surgeons shall insure the Collection against fire in the same manner as the contents of the remainder of the Museum are insured.

5. The Collection shall be open at the times during which the rest of the Museum of the Royal College of Surgeons is open, and the Royal College of Surgeons shall, in addition, afford all reasonable facilities for officers of the Royal Army Medical Corps to visit the Collection at other times.

6. The Royal Army Medical College shall have power to select from the Collection type or duplicate specimens to be kept at Millbank for teaching purposes, and to exchange such specimens for others in the Collection from time to time.

7. The Royal College of Surgeons shall remount and maintain such specimens as may be sent to it for the purpose from the collection of type or duplicate specimens kept at Millbank.

8. The Secretary of State shall appoint in such manner as he shall think fit three to five Trustees, who shall be at liberty to inspect the Collection from time to time and confer with the

The superintendence of the Museum is confided by the Council of the College to a Committee of its Members, which Committee has held six meetings during the past year.

A summary of the progress made in the preservation, arrangement, and augmentation of the Collection will be found in the following Report.

CONSERVATOR'S REPORT.

In my report of last year it was announced that the War Office Collection of Medical Specimens—now known as the Army Medical War Collection—had been handed over to the custody of the College, and that steps were being taken to provide a special room in which this collection might be housed and exhibited. Early in the present year the new room was finished and the Collection, which has been placed in Room II of the Museum since 1917, was removed to its new quarters. Five teak-wood stands and two wall-cases were erected as the first instalment of stands and cases which will be required for the display of the Collection, which will comprise about 3000 specimens. Fourteen further stands—of glass and metal, similar to those now used in Room III for the Collection of General Pathology—have been placed on order, so that Mr. Cecil Beadles, who is now in charge of the Army Medical War Collection, will very soon be able to arrange it according to the scheme which has been approved by the Museum Committee. As in former years, Professors at the Royal Army Medical College at Millbank have been supplied with specimens to illustrate their lectures.

The removal of the Army Medical War Collection to its new quarters has set Room II free for its former use—the exhibition of dissections of the human body and the large and important collection which illustrates the various forms of human monster and human malformation.

The most noteworthy event concerning the history of the Museum is the completion of the series which illustrates the Principles of Pathology—the great series which is now exhibited on special stands on the Floor of Room III. In Museum Committee of the Royal College of Surgeons in reference to matters concerning the Collection.

9. The Royal College of Surgeons shall exercise the same care and supervision over the Collection as over the rest of its Museum. The Conservator of the Museum of the Royal College of Surgeons shall be responsible for the maintenance and care of the Collection, and shall see that suitable assistance is provided for the purpose, subject to the supervision and control of the Museum Committee of the Royal College of Surgeons.

10. The Royal College of Surgeons shall complete the preparation and mounting of such specimens as have not yet been so dealt with and may be considered by the Conservator and Director General Army Medical Service to be suitable for exhibition, and shall care for, maintain, and arrange for the suitable display of the entire Collection for so long as the Secretary of State may desire, the Collection remaining the property of the Secretary of State.

11. The Royal College of Surgeons shall carry out the several undertakings herein set forth to the satisfaction of the Trustees appointed under Clause 8 of this Agreement.

12. The Secretary of State shall have the right to remove the entire collection at any time should he consider this desirable for any reason whatsoever, but the Royal College of Surgeons shall not have the right to terminate the arrangement.

13. In consideration of the foregoing the Secretary of State shall pay to the Royal College of Surgeons the sum of £7,500, which sum shall be held to cover all future costs in connection with the housing, displaying, care, maintenance, preparation, mounting, etc., of the Collection and the provision and the payment of the necessary personnel so long as the Collection remains in the custody of the Royal College of Surgeons.

1910, Prof. Shattock and Mr. Cecil Beadles commenced to select, arrange, and catalogue specimens, thus laying the basis of the scheme which they have now brought to a most successful issue. For the first time a complete and systematic treatise on disease has been written, not in words, but in illustrative specimens. Their work was broken into by the War, and subsequently by the high prices charged for museum materials. In the spring of the present year six further stands were obtained and interpolated, thus making it possible to exhibit all the specimens which are included in the Series of General Pathology. The scope of this section of the Museum is now fixed: if changes are made in the future they will have to be done by replacement rather than by addition.

The section of General Pathology having thus been completed, Prof. Shattock, assisted by Mr. Clement E. Shattock, has commenced the rearrangement, remounting, and re-cataloguing of that other great department of the Museum which illustrates disease of the various parts, organs, and systems of the human body. The sections of this department have not been revised since 1885, when Sir James Paget, Sir James Goodhart, and Mr. Alban Doran prepared the catalogue now in use. Since then many supplements have been printed, the greater number having been prepared by the late Sir Frederick Eve. New numbers are being given to the specimens, many new sections are being established, additional specimens incorporated, and the whole brought up to the present standard of knowledge. The preparation of the new catalogue represents a very great undertaking. Already the sections which illustrate disorders of the growth and nourishment of bone, fractures, inflammatory changes, etc., have been described, and new catalogue cards typed and placed so that they may be used by visitors. New "guide" cards have been fixed to each compartment of the galleries in which specimens are placed, so that students may quickly find those for which they are in search.

The new heating system for the Museum and workrooms, which was installed last autumn, has proved most effective, keeping the air in the Rooms of the Museum at an equable temperature throughout the winter months. At its meeting in March last the Council sanctioned a scheme which will give a direct and convenient access from the hall of the Museum to the proposed Whale-room. The new staircase, which leads down to this room and to new lavatories, was almost completed at the time this report was in preparation. The iron-gratings in Rooms I. and II., needed in the old system of heating, have been replaced by teak-wood flooring, and it is hoped that the corresponding gratings in Room III. may also be dispensed with.

Pathological Collection.

Since the last Annual Report, several specimens have been received. Such of these as were worth adding to the Museum have been prepared, mounted and catalogued, and distributed in the Collections of Special and General Pathology. Reference may be drawn especially to a specimen of adenomyomata beneath the mucosa of the rectum [Lockart Mummery, Esq.]; the breast of a negress from Nigeria, removed for scirrhous carcinoma [A. Sharp, Esq.]; an ivory-like osteoma, removed from the tonsil [Dr. H. Tilley]; a uterus and functioning ovary with Fallopian tube, excised from an inguinal hernia in a reputed male [Col. C. H. James]; a lobulated lipoma removed from the aryepiglottidean fold [J. M. Wright, Esq.]; a bilocular cyst of the larynx, part of which projects extra-laryngeally through the thyrohyoid membrane [E. D. D. Davis, Esq.]; malignant enlargement of the thymus gland compressing the air-passages [C. A. S. Ridout, Esq.]; portion of the shaft of a child's humerus affected with osteitis fibrosa, excised and replaced by bone-grafting [E. C. Shattock, Esq.].

In regard to the extensive Collection of Special Pathology contained in the Galleries of Rooms I., II., III., the following groups of specimens have been rearranged and re-catalogued, or the older descriptions modified: skin and subcutaneous tissue; muscle; tendons; bursæ; cartilage; bone, including Rickets; osteomalacia, osteitis fibrosa, osteitis deformans. Typed copies of these sections have been prepared in catalogue form and placed in the Collection; and the different compartments have been provided with short lists affixed to the pilasters, and indicating the groups of specimens contained in them.

At present the work is being continued in Room II. to the groups illustrating caries and necrosis of bone, after which come Tumours of Bone; Injuries and Diseases of Joints, etc.

Mr. Lawford Knaggs, Mr. A. G. T. Fisher, and Mr. C. Nicory have made use of the Pathological Collection for purposes of research.

Army Medical War Collection.

Mention has already been made of the new quarters provided for this collection and of its removal thereto. Certain points call for special mention. As was announced last year, Sir George Makins has kindly undertaken to arrange and catalogue the drawings which form an intrinsic and valuable part of this collection. A descriptive card catalogue is being prepared, and the drawings have been classified and mounted, and are grouped in a special cabinet placed in the new room. Duplicates of the excellent series of injured eyes which were collected in France during the War and prepared by Sir William T. Lister have now been added to the collection. These beautifully mounted preparations will be exhibited on a special stand.

A series of 50 drawings, prepared to illustrate injuries of the vascular system, mostly under the direction of Sir George Makins and others, to illustrate gunshot injuries of the spine, drawn for articles written by the late Sir William Thorburn, have been presented by Messrs. Wright, of Bristol, on behalf of the editors of the 'British Journal of Surgery.'

It was arranged by those in authority when the War Collection was made that the specimens left in store, when the central collection was completed, would be available for distribution. The President of the Royal College of Surgeons, Edinburgh, has applied for, and been given, leave to make a selection for the Museum of his College.

During the last twelve months 370 specimens have been mounted and added to the Army Medical War Collection. They include a considerable number of brains, and a further series illustrating dysentery and allied diseases, besides gunshot injuries of other parts.

There remain about 50 specimens (mainly limbs and joints) which have been selected from material in the stores; their preparation, for the most part, has been completed, and it is hoped they will be in a condition to seal down before the end of the present year.

Most of the dry bones and about two-thirds of the glycerine-mounted specimens are now placed in the new room; the rest, pending further shelf accommodation, remain in the workrooms.

Considerable progress has been made with the cataloguing of this Collection. With the exception of about 150 of the wet preparations, a description has been drawn up, and an abstract added of the history of the case. The specimens have yet to be arranged in groups and numbered; this was not possible until all the specimens had been assembled. This grouping will now be proceeded with, and as the specimens receive a number, their descriptions will be typed and bound into book form.

Teratological Series.

Among the additions made to this section of the Museum during the past year, special attention is drawn to the remarkable heart of an ox presented by the Department of Physiology of the University of Aberdeen and described by Dr. Charles Reid in the 'Journal of Anatomy' of the current year. An opening from the left ventricle leads into the anterior coronary artery, and through this vessel the ventricle pumped blood into the aorta. A child's heart, showing an almost identical malformation, was presented by the late Mr. H. Blakeway in 1918. Noteworthy, too, is the remarkable malformation of the tricuspid region of the human heart presented by Dr. Alex. Blackhall-Morison. Another specimen of interest is the ileo-cæcal cyst presented by Dr. W. F. Macauley, of Dublin. Mr. Robert Ollerenshaw and Mr. R. C. Elmslie have added two specimens illustrating the anatomy of legs in which the tibia is congenitally absent. In Mr. Elmslie's case both right and left legs were affected; Mr. Ollerenshaw's specimens were obtained from the corresponding limbs of identical twins. The body of a child, obtained through Dr. Sydney Owen, showing absence of the urogenital system and rectum, is also a noteworthy addition.

The Onodi Collection.

The material for the formation of this Collection was obtained under the circumstances narrated in the Conservator's Report of 1921. Since the autumn of 1920 until the end of last year, the Prosector to the College, Mr. H. Wilson, has been engaged in dissecting and mounting preparations and in identifying the original sections shown in Prof. Onodi's published works. He has now completed the series of wet specimens, having set up about 50 preparations showing the condition of the accessory cavities of the nose as seen in children at various ages. There still remain many dried specimens to be prepared and mounted, which work is being carried out by H. George under the direction Mr. T. B. Layton.

Mr. Layton is proceeding with the numbering and arranging of the specimens in the upper gallery of Room III, and with the preparation of a descriptive catalogue for the entire series. The scheme of arrangement is not easy as so many preparations illustrate several points of anatomical and clinical interest. Mr. Layton is overcoming this difficulty by a free use of cross-references.

Human Osteology.

As in former years, some of the most interesting additions made to the Museum and some of the more important enquiries carried out in the workrooms, relate to the series of Human Osteology. Among the additions attention may be called to the cast of the tooth presented by the American Museum of Natural History, New York, which is held by Dr. H. F. Osborn to indicate the existence of a human genus, named Hesperopithecus, in North America during the Pliocene period. Others regard it as the worn molar of a Pliocene bear. Also remarkable and instructive is the skeleton of the Eunuch, a negro, presented by Prof. Douglas Derry, of Cairo. A skeleton found in an ancient burial place, probably of Anglo-Saxon date, shows evidence of infantile paralysis, the earliest trace of this disorder in England. Dr. H. C. Sloman, of Copenhagen, presented a photograph, from a stella of the 18th Dynasty, showing a similar lesion in a priest of that date. The late Celtic remains presented by Mr. Reginald W. Hooley are valuable, as they represent the first definite discovery of Englishmen belonging to the pre-Roman period. Many valuable additions have been made to the British series of Roman and post-Roman dates. The donations made by Prof. Fred. D. Bird, Sir Hercules Read, and Mr. T. W. H. Migeod are of particular value. Most remarkable is the discovery of a skull and other bones of an Australian aborigine in a cachet of bones discovered by the police near Lowestoft. These bones, which were forwarded for report and afterwards presented by Dr. Wilson Tyson, probably represent a collection made by a sea captain or a medical student, and were got rid of by burial in the place where they were found. The negro skull presented by Mr. Howard Ross, to whom the College is already greatly indebted, shows extensive destruction in the occipital region, probably the result of a malignant growth.

Anthropological Research.

On October 1st, 1922, Miss M. L. Tildesley was reappointed by the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research for a third term of 12 months, to continue her task of preparing a new catalogue of the Human Remains preserved in the Museum of the Royal College of Surgeons of England.

At the present time Miss Tildesley has almost completed the new descriptions of the skulls and skeletons of British origin and those from France and Spain. An appeal to the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research to have Miss Tildesley's appointment renewed on Oct. 1st, 1923, for at least another year has not met with success.

Reports on Human Remains.

Human remains found in various caves and shelters in the Mendips have been sent for examination. Those found by Mr. H. E. Balch at Ebbor proved to be of late Celtic in date. The Conservator had an opportunity of examining three skulls found recently in Burrington cave and undoubtedly of palæolithic date. They show no feature which distinguishes them from skulls found in English graves of a neolithic date.

The National Museum of Wales has sent remains for examination from graves of various dates, ranging from neolithic to Roman. The skull of a child, from a dolmen grave, showed changes which Prof. Shattock assigned to Rickets—the earliest trace of this disorder so far found in England. Capt. C. E. Vulliamy sent fragmentary remains from a dolmen he excavated at Ffostill, Breconshire. Remains found in a megalithic tomb, Blanches Banques, Jersey, were sent for report by the Société Jersiaise. They proved to be remains of a people similar to those found in the megalithic tomb at Coldrum, Kent. This tomb has been reinvestigated by Mr. E. W. Filkins and many further fragmentary remains recovered. Further neolithic remains from Jersey were sent for examination by Major Rybot.

Especially important and complete are the skeletons found by Mr. Reg. W. Hooley in late Celtic graves, Wortley Down, Hampshire. They are of the same type as the Romano-British. Two further skulls have been received from the cemetery (4 Cent. A.D.) at Barnwood, Glos., through the kindness of Mrs. Clifford. Skulls and other bones of a mediæval date found in Romsey Abbey were presented by Col. Ashley, M.P. A skull of uncertain date was examined for the Darlington and Teesdale Field Naturalists' Club.

Several discoveries of human remains made in distant countries have been sent for examination. Near the site of Forbes Quarry, where the famous Gibraltar skull was found in 1846, Mr. A. Craven Greenwood, Colonial Secretary, Gibraltar, found remains of men and of animals, but all proved to be of the modern type. The remains were brought home by Commander F. G. Bowers of H.M.S. 'Cyclops.' Important finds of ancient and modern date have come from Malta, but the Conservator has not completed their examination. Dr. G. Arnold, Curator of the Rhodesian Museum, Bulawayo, sent for examination the remains of an individual found buried beneath a mass of débris at the bottom of an ancient gold-mine—the reputed mines of King Solomon. They were supposed to be the remains of an ancient miner, but proved to be those of a negro woman of the Matabele type and not of great antiquity.

Researches of an anthropological character have been carried out in the Museum by Prof. G. L. Sera, of Pavia, on Bushmen; by Mr. G. M. Morant, on skulls from Anglo-Saxon graves; by Mr. Sheldon Friel, of Dublin, on the normal articulation of the lower with the upper teeth. Miss Caton Thompson, Dr. Louis Reverdin, of Geneva, Mr. Gerald Dunning, and Mr. Mitchell Hedges have been supplied with help in their enquiries.

Other Researches.—Among those who have used the Museum and its work-room for the purpose of research, Mr. Lawford Knaggs deserves particular mention. He continues his investigations into the pathology of bone. Dr. Louis Gross has continued his research into the cause of Intestinal Stasis, and Mr. A. G. T. Fisher has made further progress in his enquiries concerning the nourishment and disorders of articular cartilage. The Conservator takes this opportunity to commend in the highest terms the very thorough investigation now being conducted by Mr. V. E. Negus on the comparative anatomy and mechanisms of the Larynx. Miss G. M. Duthie, of Manchester University, has carried out an examination of the vestigial structures of the broad ligament; Dr. J. N. McIntosh has searched for indications of rickets in certain cranial features; Mr. H. Tyrrell Gray has presented further specimens to illustrate the results which follow on different modes of intestinal suture; Sir Thomas Lewis has had the loan of material for investigations he is making on certain congenital malformations of the heart; Sir Jos. Skevington has been given assistance in studying the deformity which accompanies the presence of an omo-cervical bond; Dr. G. W. Nicholson has also been supplied with material for microscopic examination.

Physiological Department of the Museum.

One or two points deserve notice here in connection with this important side of the Museum. It is particularly needful that the anatomy and physiology of those animals which are most nearly related to Man should be fully represented in the Physiological Series. Thanks to Miss Alyse Cunningham and Major Penny, the body of a young domesticated and intelligent gorilla, brought from the French Gaboon last year, was placed at our disposal. Unfortunately the viscera had been rendered useless for anatomical purposes by a rough post-mortem examination, but in the intestines Col. Clayton Lane found forms of intestinal worms which were new to science. The animal showed certain movements which were suggestive of a cerebellar lesion, and we found the fourth ventricle greatly distended with a red grumous fluid and the cerebellum itself largely destroyed. There was no sign of middle ear disease. The prosector, Mr. H. Wilson, has made several preparations from its body—of the pharynx, larynx, muscles of the face and facial mask. Preparations of the hernial regions are being made.

The specimens obtained by Mr. Burne, the Physiological Curator, to demonstrate the manner in which bones grow, the well-known method of feeding pigs with madder having been employed, are especially instructive. Emeritus-Professor Wm. McIntosh has used our collection for investigations he is making on whales, as also has Dr. Sharpus. Mr. R. T. Gunter, of Oxford, examined material in the Museum to elucidate certain features he had noted in the mandibles of bears. Prof. F. H. Edgeworth, Dr. A. E. Peake, Mr. C. J. Davies, Dr. C. F. Sonntag, Dr. H. C. Sloman, Mr. Mikelson, and Miss Knobel have had material put at their disposal for the purposes of research.

During the past year the collection has still required rather more than the normal amount of attention in remounting specimens that had either broken down or suffered through loss of spirit. This work, which in the case of more delicate Hunterian preparations requires great care and ingenuity, has been carried on with excellent results by S. Steward.

Progress has been made with the card catalogue of the section illustrating the "Process of Reproduction."

The work commenced last year on certain peculiarities in the vascular system of Lamna and certain species of Sharks has been continued, and the results are now ready for publication.

Collection of Surgical Instruments.

Mr. Alban Doran has almost completed the descriptive catalogue of the Collection of Surgical Instruments in the possession of the College—a task to which he has given twelve years of his life and an unrivalled fund of accurate scholarship. Mr. Doran, who is now in his 75th year, has been confined to his home during the winter owing to illness and failing sight, is now engaged on the last section of the Collection—the surgical instruments used by barbarous and semi-civilized peoples. He has written an introduction to the whole collection which will serve as a guide to those who visit this part of the Museum. He has also prepared a table of contents to guide students to the particular part of the Collection they may desire to study. In 1873, just 50 years ago, Mr. Doran became Anatomical Assistant in the Museum under Sir William Flower, afterwards becoming Pathological Assistant, and helping Sir James Paget to prepare the present edition of the Pathological Catalogue. Consulting practice then claimed him until 1910, when he returned to devote himself, as a voluntary worker, to the welfare of the Museum.

Odontological Collection.

During the year considerable progress has been made with the repair, cleaning, and numbering of the specimens. The catalogue has been completed, with the exception of the Series E. (Irregularities in position of the teeth). A few specimens have been added to the Collection. Especial mention may be made of two plaster casts—one of an angioma of the palate, and one of a large epithelial odontome involving the mandible.

The Collection is now in excellent order for the use of students, and it is gratifying to record that a large number of visitors have visited this part of the Museum during the past year.

The Conservator regrets to announce the death of Mr. William Pearson, in his 82nd year, at his home at Waddon, Croydon. He retired from his office of prosector in April 1914, having then served the College for 57½ years. His unrivalled dissections of the human body are familiar to all visitors to the Museum. Many of these preparations form the originals for illustrations in our standard works on human anatomy. Mr. Pearson kept up his interest in the welfare of the Museum and the College to the last. His grandfather and father also worked in the Museum, the collective service of the three—grandfather, father and son—amounting to 153 years. Appreciative biographical notices appeared in the Lancet and British Medical Journal in their issues of March 24th, and a fuller notice of his services to the Museum and College is given in the Conservator's Report of 1914.

The Conservator also regrets to report that he was absent from duty, on account of an illness, from Oct. 27th, 1922, until Feb. 26th, 1923. In his absence, his colleague, Mr. R. H. Burne, carried out the duties of Conservator. The Conservator would avail himself of this opportunity of thanking the President and Council for the great consideration they extended to him during his illness, and for the long leave given him to make a complete recovery.

ARTHUR KEITH,

1st August, 1923. Conservator.

THE LIBRARY.

The Library of the College dates from the year 1800, in July of which year the first grant of a sum not exceeding £50 was made for Library purposes. It had been the intention of the old Corporation of Surgeons to form a Library, but they failed to carry their intention into effect. In its early years the Library was considerably increased by presentations and bequests of books—the principal donors being Dr. Baillie, Sir Everard Home, Sir Charles Blicke, the widow of Mr. Sharpe, Sir Ludford Harvey, Dr. Fleming, Mr. Cotton, and Mr. Long. The Court of Assistants also directed from time to time the expenditure of small sums of money for the purchase of books. Sir Charles Blicke, in the year 1816, invested the sum of £300, the proceeds of which were to be devoted to the same object. By these means extensive purchases were from time to time made from the libraries of Mr. Pitt, Mr. St. André, Sir Anthony Carlisle, and others. The progress of the Library, however, for the first twenty-six years of its existence was very slow, but in 1827 great efforts were made to put it in a thoroughly good condition; in that and the two subsequent years the sum of £5269 was spent in the purchase of books, and in 1829 the first Librarian was appointed. The College was practically rebuilt by Sir Charles Barry in 1835–36, and during that period the Library was closed, the books being packed in cases and stored in the Museum Gallery. On the 15th of February, 1837, the Library was re-opened, the rooms in the new building allotted to this department being the Reading-Room and the Librarian's Room. From this date until 1888 very little extra accommodation had been provided for the Library, a small Committee-Room had been fitted up with shelves and room made for a few books under the Theatre.

The munificent gift of Sir Erasmus Wilson enabled the Council in 1888 very materially to increase the Library accommodation, and at the same time to improve and re-decorate the existing building. The residence of the Conservator of the Museum at the east end of the College was pulled down, and the building erected on its site was devoted to Library purposes. On a level with the old Reading-Room an extension was built, the two rooms being connected by four archways, two on the ground and two in the Gallery. Beneath this a handsome Book-Room was provided, and below that a spacious Store-Room. The new building, as at present shelved, gives accommodation for 26,000 volumes. The Librarian's Room was considerably improved by throwing into it a loft above the old ceiling and a passage which led into the Reading-Room.

The whole of the Library premises were re-decorated, and the Electric Light was installed throughout. The heating apparatus, which was under the floor at the south side of the Library, was all removed, and in its place a coil of hot-water pipes was placed in each window. The gallery railing, being in an unsafe condition, was replaced by one of a stronger pattern.

This extension of the Library made it possible to re-arrange the books in such a way as to render them more accessible to readers. In the Gallery of the Extension stand the books on Anatomy, Physiology, Pathology, Medicine and Surgery; round the Reading-Room are ranged sets of the Periodicals and Transactions in greatest demand. There is also a good collection of dictionaries, encyclopædias, systems and general books of reference, conveniently arranged for the use of readers.

The lower room contains books on Chemistry and Physics, Materia Medica and Therapeutics, Forensic Medicine, Diseases of Women and Children, History of Medicine and Surgery, Biography and Bibliography. The basement is devoted to old sets of Journals and Transactions, a collection of Theses, and to miscellaneous books.

The Librarian's Room contains the books on Biology, and certain valuable works, including many Early Printed Books, which are kept in glass cases.

The current numbers of the Journals are displayed on tables down the middle of the Reading-Room: four of these are fitted with sliding trays, in which books too large for the wall-cases, and illustrated works still in progress, are kept. The new books are placed on a stand in the centre of the Room; these are catalogued directly they are received, and are not at once available for readers. A list of the additions is posted in the Library.

The first Catalogue of the Library was issued in 1831. A classed Catalogue was prepared by Dr. Willis, and was in use in MS. for some years; in 1838 a synopsis of it was printed, and the work itself was published in 1843. In 1853 an index of subjects was issued, and four supplements to the Author Catalogue were published between the years 1840 and 1860. In 1890 a List of Transactions, Periodicals, and Memoirs in the Library was published. A new Catalogue of Authors and Subjects on cards has been completed; these are kept in cabinets at the west end of the Reading-Room, and are available for use by the readers. The cards can now be used as copy for the printers.

The Library is particularly rich in the Transactions of Societies, and in Periodicals relating not only to Medicine and Surgery, but also to the accessory sciences. The large illustrated works on Zoology, Anatomy, &c., are also well represented. There is a good and very large collection of Portraits of Members of the Medical Profession.

In December 1892 a Common Room for the use of Fellows and Members was opened in the Reading-Room adjoining the Entrance Hall.

A new Store-Room for books was fitted up in the basement in 1901, and in 1907 a new room with an annexe was added in proximity to the gallery of the large Library.

During the past year the supply of books and periodicals has been well kept up.

The Dissertations for the Prize for the ensuing year, 1924, must be delivered at the College not later than 4 o'clock P.M. on Wednesday the 31st of December, 1924.

John Hunter Medal and Triennial Prize.

1. The John Hunter Medal executed in bronze shall be awarded with the Triennial Prize of Fifty Pounds.

2. The recommendation for the award shall be entrusted to a Committee, which shall consist of three Members of the Council, in addition to the President and Vice-Presidents, to be elected triennially at the Quarterly Meeting of the Council in the July preceding the year of award.

3. The award may be made triennially by the Council to a Fellow or Member of the College, not on the Council, who has, during the preceding ten years, done such work in Anatomy, Physiology, Histology, Embryology, or Pathological Anatomy as, in the opinion of the Committee, deserves special recognition.

4. The Committee shall report its recommendation to the Council not later than the Quarterly Council in April subsequent to the expiration of the Triennial period.

5. Should no work by a Fellow or Member of the College in the subjects selected be held by the Committee to be deserving of special recognition, the Committee shall report to the Council accordingly.

Walker Prize.

1. The Walker Prize shall be awarded for the best work in advancing the knowledge of the Pathology and Therapeutics of Cancer done, either partially or wholly, within the five years preceding the year in which the Prize shall be awarded.

2. The next award of the Prize shall be for the five years ending the 31st December, 1925.

3. The Prize shall consist of a gift of £100. A document declaratory of the award, sealed with the College Seal and signed by the President, shall be presented with the Prize.

4. The Prize shall be awarded by the Council on the recommendation of a Committee at the Quarterly Meeting of the Council in the April following the expiration of the quinquennial period. The Council shall not, however, award the Prize should they not consider any work deserving of it.

5. The Committee shall consist of five Members and shall be appointed by the Council not less than one year prior to the date of the award of the Prize. The Committee shall not of necessity be confined to Members of the Council.

6. The grounds upon which the Prize is awarded shall be made public at the time of the award.

7. The Prize shall be open to foreigners as well as to British subjects, and the Committee shall not be restricted in any way as to the selection of persons qualified to receive the Prize, with the exception that Members of the Council shall not be eligible.

NOTE.—It is not intended that Essays should be submitted in competition for this Prize, or that those who are anxious to obtain it should be called upon to submit their names as Candidates. It is hoped, however, that the knowledge of the reward which may be obtained, and the distinction which it will confer on its recipient, will prove an incentive to those who are occupied in the study of this disease.

John Tomes Prize.

1. The John Tomes Prize shall be awarded triennially.

2. The Prize shall consist of the amount of the interest accruing from the John Tomes Fund during the triennial period (about £30). A document, declaratory of the award, sealed with the College Seal, and signed by the President, shall be presented with the Prize.

3. The Prize shall be open to any person registered under the Dentists' Act of 1878, who shall hold a Diploma in Dental Surgery of one of the Licensing Bodies in Great Britain or Ireland included in the Schedule of the said Act.

4. The Prize shall be awarded for original or other scientific work, done either partially or wholly within the triennial period, on the subjects of Dental Surgery and Pathology, Dental Anatomy and Physiology (including Histology), or Dental Mechanics.

5. The Prize shall be awarded by the Council on the recommendation of a Committee at the Quarterly Meeting of the Council in the April following the expiration of the triennial period. The Council shall, however, withhold the Prize if, in the opinion of the Committee, no work within the prescribed time be of sufficient merit to justify its award, and in such case shall either invest the dividends to augment the capital of the Fund, or adjudge the Prize to the author of some original research, deserving recognition, in other than dental subjects, which may have been carried out by any person eligible for the Prize.

6. The Committee shall consist of five members, and shall be appointed by the Council not less than one year prior to the date of the award of the Prize. The Committee shall not of necessity be confined to Members of the Council.

7. No essays shall be submitted in competition for the Prize in the case of the next award, which shall be for the period ending the 31st December, 1923; but it shall be open to the Committee to recommend to the Council that essays should be called for before any subsequent award.

Cartwright Prize.

1. The Cartwright Prize will be awarded quinquennially, and the next award will be for the five years ending 31st December, 1925.

2. The Prize consists of a Medal executed in bronze and an honorarium of £85.

3. The subject for the essays to be submitted in competition for the Prize is "Variations in the form of the Jaws, with special reference to their Etiology and their relation to the Occlusion of the Dental Arches."

4. Candidates for the Prize must be persons engaged in the study or practice of Dental Surgery and possessing qualifications capable of registration under the Medical Acts of the United Kingdom. (A Diploma or Licence in Dental Surgery without a Medical or Surgical Diploma or Degree will not be a sufficient qualification.)

5. The Prize will be awarded to the author of the best essay written in English upon the proposed subject, if such essay is considered of sufficient merit.

6. Every essay must have a motto or device and must be accompanied by a sealed paper containing the name and address of the author, and having on the outside a motto or device corresponding with the motto or device on the essay.

7. Each essay must be addressed to the Secretary of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, and delivered at the College not later than 4 o'clock P.M. on the 31st December, 1925.

8. The manuscript Prize essay and every accompanying drawing and preparation will become the property of the Royal College of Surgeons of England.

9. Every unapproved essay which is unclaimed at the expiration of twelve months from the date of its receipt will be returned, with any accompanying drawing and preparation, to the author thereof at the address given in the sealed envelope.

Begley Studentship.

1. The Begley Studentship shall consist of the dividends derived from the Begley Bequest, viz.: £20 per annum, and shall be tenable for three years, subject to the conditions hereinafter mentioned.

2. The Studentship shall be awarded in April 1924, and thereafter triennially, or at such time as any Studentship may become vacant.

3. The Studentship shall be open, on the occasion of the sixth award, to any Candidate admitted to the Second Examination of the Conjoint Examining Board in England held in March or April 1924.

4. The Studentship shall be awarded to the Candidate, if any, obtaining the highest number of marks in the Anatomical part of the Examination.

5. If two or more Candidates in the Anatomical part of the Examination shall obtain an equal number of marks, being with respect to the other Candidates the highest number of marks obtained by any Candidate, reference shall be made to the marks obtained by them respectively in the Physiological part of the Examination, and on the combined result the adjudication shall be made: and, if their marks shall still be equal, it shall be open to the two senior Examiners in Anatomy appointed by the Royal College of Surgeons to call upon such Candidates to present themselves for further examination, or to take such other steps as may enable them to adjudicate in the matter.

6. The examiners shall report their adjudication of the Studentship to the Council at the Meeting of the Council next succeeding the Examination.

7. The Stipend shall be paid yearly, and the Student shall receive the first instalment within three months after the award of the Studenship.

8. The Student shall be required, before payment of the second and third instalments respectively, to send to the Secretary of the Royal College of Surgeons of England a Certificate from the Dean of his Medical School to the effect that his conduct has been satisfactory and that he has been applying himself diligently to his studies, and should any Student fail to comply with this requirement he shall forfeit his Studentship and all future payments in respect thereof.

9. Words in these Regulations which import the masculine gender shall also import the feminine gender.

REGULATIONS OF THE COUNCIL RELATING TO MEETINGS OF FELLOWS AND MEMBERS.

1. A Meeting of Fellows and Members shall be summoned annually for the Thursday following the Ordinary Meeting of the Council in November, or for such other time as the Council may determine.

2. Other Meetings may be summoned, either with or without a requisition, at such times and for such objects as may by the Council be thought desirable.

3. Such requisition shall be signed by not less than 30 Fellows and Members, or Fellows or Members, and shall contain a statement of the object or objects for which the Meeting is requested.

4. At the Annual Meeting the Report of the Council shall be presented.
5. Motions introduced by Fellows or Members

(a) shall have direct reference to the object or objects for which the Meeting has been summoned;
(b) shall be signed by the Mover, or the Mover and other Fellows or Members;
(c) shall be received by the Secretary not less than 10 days before the Meeting.

6. The President shall determine what Motions are in order and direct the arrangement of the Agenda.
7. The Quorum of each Meeting shall be 30, exclusive of Members of the Council, and if, at the expiration of 15 minutes from the hour for which the Meeting has been summoned, a Quorum be not present, the Meeting shall not take place. If, after the commencement of the Meeting, it shall be found upon a count that a Quorum be not present, the Meeting shall be dissolved.
8. The President or one of the Vice-Presidents, or in their absence the Senior Member of the Council present, shall be Chairman of the Meeting, and the Chairman's decision shall be final upon all points of order which may arise.
9. Not less than three weeks' notice of each Meeting shall be given by advertisement.
10. The Agenda paper shall be prepared 3 days before the Meeting, and shall be issued to any Fellow or Member who shall have applied for it.
11. A record of the proceedings shall be kept by the Secretary.
